Mack's Sluggers Are Credited
With Ten—Home Run to Baker.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

New York, Oct. 7.—The Philadelphia Athletics overcame the New York Giants in the first of the world's series here today. Forty thousand people saw the battle in which heavy hitting featured the contest. New York used three pitchers in the box in an endeavor to stop the Athletic batsmen. Bender was hit hard and outside of the fifth inning, he managed to keep the Giants' hits scattered. Baker was again a hero at the bat, driving out three hits, one of which was a terrific home run drive into the stand which scored Collins ahead of him. The only field misplay was a wild throw by Barry.

The teams will meet at Shibe Park tomorrow, weather permitting.

Bender vs Marquard.
Some 40,000 persons filled the broad reaches of the big Shibe stadium this afternoon to witness the New York Giants, pennant winners of the National League, battle with the Philadelphia Athletics of the American League, in the first game of the world's baseball series.

MAY PITCH THREE GAMES IN SERIES

Chief Bender.

Back in 1911 Chief Bender was Connie Mack's choice in the opening game of the world's series. He was beaten by Mathewson, but he pitched two other games against Matty during the same series and won them both. In the two years since then the chief has shown no sign of going back on form, and Mack may again think it advisable to use Bender three times in the present big contest.

Before the Game.
The seats were filled when the game was called. Two hundred newspaper men and fifty operators were sending out reports of the game. Photographers snapped players in all sorts of positions. There was great excitement.

Before the game Jake Daubert, first baseman from Brooklyn, was presented with an automobile as he was the most valuable player of any club in the National League.

Umpires arrived on the field at two o'clock. A discussion was held with McGraw, Captain Murphy and the umpires about ground rules.

Mayor Kline of New York, and Major General Barry, United States army, were escorted across the field just before the play.

Kline called balls and strikes; Esan called bases. Wright officiated in left field and Connolly in right. Marquard and Meyers were selected for the Giants and Bender and Schang for the Athletics. John Brush, grandson of the late John T. Brush, president of the Giants, threw the first ball.

Gray skies and a mist threatening rain prevailed this morning, the opening day of the world's series baseball contest. The temperature was mild.

The world of baseball centered its attention upon the polo grounds in this city today, the opening day of the biggest sports event of the year—the world's championship struggle between the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Athletics.

These two teams have met twice before to battle for premier honors, once in 1905 the national leaguers triumphed. Once two years ago, the American league pennant winners were crowned with the laurels. Today the "rubber" was to be played or its play begun and each team took the field determined to win the odd.

Apparently so evenly matched, and the outcome so uncertain as in this contest between the men of Connie Mack and John McGraw.

Betting is Even.
The uncertainty was reflected in the practically even betting that ruled as the crowds assembled for the beginning of play and the keen interest aroused by the early signs of the opening day through given even reasonable fair treatment by the weather man, would be one of the largest if not the largest in the history of the game.

Before midnight the crowd began to gather at the Polo grounds. Although the rain had been predicted, more than 1,000 fans had posted themselves at the entrance before one o'clock this morning with the line swelling fast as the night grew old and dawn approached. By eight o'clock this morning the hour for releasing the barriers which kept the crowds from the stands, tandem was on its way to the field by thousands.

Managers Confident.
The managers of the two teams voiced each his confidence in the ultimate outcome. Connie Mack predicted a world's championship for the Athletics before this week's close, after a run of hard fought games.

"The Athletics will be on the winning end," he predicted.

Manager McGraw of the Giants was no less sure of a triumph for his men. "This is our year and the luck will have to break hard against us to beat us," he declared.

This year McGraw found himself on the morning of the first fray with his aggressive outfielder Fred Snodgrass in such shape that no one expected to see him in the lineup of the opening game, if indeed, he is able to play at all in the series. Snodgrass has been troubled with a "Charlie horse" for nearly two weeks and yesterday he aggravated his injury in practice.

Herzog to Pin.
But Snodgrass out meant Charlie Herzog in not merely when left handed pitchers were on the slab, but in every game, and the followers of the team who recall that Herzog's star work in the series with the Red Sox last year were confident that the Giants would go into the game presenting as strong a front as though the center fielder was still able to do duty.

CUBS-SOX GAME IS
POSTPONED TODAYRain Prevents Opening Clash of Teams For City Championship—
Resume Play Tomorrow.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 7.—The first game of the city series for the championship of Chicago, to be played between the Chicago Cubs and White Sox was postponed today on account of rain. The game was to have been played at the Cubs' (West Side) Park, at two o'clock, but a steady down-pour of rain stopped the contest.

With the ending of the rain, the police today redoubled their struggle in the search for the mysterious "Wilson" whose telephonic promise of a position drew Miss Ida G. Leegson, near Clearing where she was garroted early Sunday after a terrific struggle.

The auto was stolen before three o'clock Saturday afternoon from Madison Park. It was shortly before this hour that "Wilson" telephoned the residence where Miss Leegson roomed. The call was in response to an advertisement for work which read: "Practical nurse. Maternity cases preferred."

Miss Leegson was told to take a car to 71st street and Western Avenue and to walk west. The street address she was given does not exist. She was told not to take a heavy suit case as she would have considerable walking to do.

Hold Torture Theory.
The police have ascertained that Miss Leegson was met by a man in a black automobile when she alighted from the Western Avenue car. The team of the automobile recovered in Palos Park, west of the scene of the murder, indicated there had been evident struggle. Among other articles found in it was a piece of a shirt waist.

Coroner's physicians Jacob Springer is of the opinion that Miss Leegson was tortured by the man from six o'clock Saturday until 4 or 5 o'clock Sunday morning. He asserted the woman had not been dead more than five hours when the body was found Sunday afternoon. The police believe they are confronted with the problem of solving a mystery where the victim may not have known the person who plotted her death.

Re-arranges His Cabinet in Order to Be Effective For Coming Fight—
Report Rebel Activity.

Washington, Oct. 7.—The latest shake-up in the Mexican cabinet, the third in a few months, is interpreted by officials here as a move made by Huerta to put his official household in order for the coming presidential election. The rearrangement is understood to have been made with a view to placing each of the cabinet officials in position for his peculiar talent might be of the greatest service from a party point of view.

Kill Wounded Rebels.
Vera Cruz, Mexico, Oct. 7.—A number of men were reported to have arrived from the state of Durango, asserting that the federal troops there have been acting with far more humanity than the rebels. They say that in pursuit of the rebels the federal soldiers killed all wounded rebels and that one man was dragged from a hospital immediately after one of his legs had been amputated, placed before a firing squad and executed.

In the coast country south of Vera Cruz the federal soldiers have been ordered not to take any prisoners and it is reported that this order is to be extended to the state of Vera Cruz today.

Report Rebels Active.
Rebel activity is reported to have greatly increased in the vicinity of Tezcuatan in the state of Puebla where an American mining concern has its headquarters. Several bands of rebels who lately attacked the town and were repulsed are said to have received fresh supplies of ammunition. From other portions of the same state minor uprisings are reported.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Albany, Oct. 7.—The Sulzer impeachment court after an executive session lasting an hour yesterday, retained in the records the testimony of Allen A. Ryan, regarding Governor Sulzer's alleged attempt to bring to bear on republican senators to vote that his impeachment was illegal.

Allen A. Ryan testified that Sulzer asked him to ask Dr. Lancy Nichol to see Charles F. Murphy, in an effort to have the impeachment proceedings stopped. Mr. Ryan was then recalled to the stand and asked what further conversation he had with the governor on the occasion of the latter's request that he see Ryan.

CURRENCY HEARINGS
RESUMED IN SENATEWilson in Conference With Senate
Leaders Assured That Republicans Cannot Obstruct Program.

Washington, Oct. 7.—The senate's currency hearings were resumed today with the definite understanding that they will continue until October 25th if important witnesses appear. It is expected that with a definite date set every effort will be made by the administration force to bring democrats into line in support of the administration bill.

Confer With Wilson.
President Wilson discussed the situation today with Senator Clark, president pro tem of the senate, majority leader Kern and Senator James, one of the administration's spokesmen. Mr. Wilson told them the republican minority should not be permitted to obstruct the democratic majority program. The president's friends will canvass the situation in the senate looking to an early report of the administration bill from the committee.

Senator James pointed out that the committee had decided to end hearings, "or before October 25."

Effect of Glass Attack.
The statement of Chairman Glass of the house committee attacking the attitude of Senator Hitchcock and characterizing senate hearings as a waste of time, it was said in senate circles today, would have the direct effect of strengthening the determination of some senate committee members to urge important amendments.

PLAN A SPEEDY TRIAL

His Admission of Rextroat Crime Is Substantiated by Evidence—Is Known to Have Been Daring Burglar.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Oct. 7.—A speedy trial for the murderer of Mrs. Mildred Allison Rextroat on September 25, was today promised Henry Spencer, whose confession of two murders woven by an opium clouded brain dumfounded the police. The authorities will continue to investigate his fantastic stories in the hope of establishing further facts.

His admission of the Rextroat crime is substantiated by evidence, he is known to have committed many of the large number of burglaries to which he has confessed and there is a possibility that he may have slain Mrs. Annabelle Wright last December. She was beaten to death with a hammer by a man who had rented a room and robbed.

Dreams of Insane Man.
The remainder of Spencer's twenty "murders" are believed to be the dreams of a man obsessed by that form of insanity known as "strange" or "delusional" described as penitentiary insanity.

Two Days Without Sleep.
The fact that he has been without sleep for at least two days and the many hours of questioning to which he has been subjected since his arrest are believed by the police to be responsible for his present physical condition.

The officials will consider the advisability of sending local forces to the out of town murders which Spencer claims to have committed.

The supposed murder at St. Joseph, Mich., will be investigated as a message was received from the author of the statement that there had been a young woman killed there recently.

NOVEL MODIFICATION

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Berlin, Germany, October 7.—A novel interpretation of how the Monroe doctrine should be applied after the completion of the Panama Canal has just been voiced by a German diplomat of authority.

The high standing of this diplomat may reasonably be expected to influence the standpoint of Germany in any future controversy involving the famous doctrine of American foreign relations; consequently, the statement is not without certain interest. He would cut the American continent in two at the Panama canal and allow to the United States full and free hand as far south as that waterway.

This is Guaranteed to Stop Your Cough

Make this Family Supply of Cough Syrup at Home and Save $2.

This plan makes a pint of better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. A few doses usually conquer an ordinary cough—relieves even whooping cough quickly. Simple as it is, no better remedy can be had at any price.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. It has a pleasant taste and lasts a family a long time. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. Has a good tonic effect, braces up the appetite, and is slightly laxative, too, which is helpful. A handy remedy for hoarseness, spasmodic croup, bronchitis, bronchial asthma and whooping cough. The effect of Pinex on the membranes is well known. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in quinine and other natural healing elements. Other preparations will not work in this combination.

This Pinex and Sugar Syrup remedy has often been imitated, though never successfully. It is now used in more homes than any other cough remedy.

GIVEN PRISON TERM FOR ESCAPE WHILE UNDER COMMITMENT

Waldo Holmes, Who Escaped From Custody of Sheriff, Sentenced to One Year's Imprisonment.

Waldo Holmes, who was sentenced to twenty days at hard labor under the new commitment law by Justice F. W. Jensen on October 3, on conviction of intoxication, and escaped from the farm of Charles W. Schumacher on October 5, was captured yesterday and this morning pleaded guilty in the municipal court to escaping from the custody of the sheriff. In compliance with the terms of the commitment law Judge Maxfield sentenced him to one year's imprisonment in the state prison at Waupun. The law provides an alternative of $500 fine, but this Holmes was not able to pay. As far as is known Holmes is the first man to be sentenced for breaking the provisions of the statute providing a penalty for making an escape.

He had nothing to say in his defense. In reply to the questions of the judge he said that his home was in Chicago and his occupation that of a bridge worker.

"I have worried a great deal in life and can't get out of it," he said. When asked what he worried about he said his folks. He is unmarried and claims to drink is at the bottom of his troubles.

The sentence passed upon Holmes will no doubt prove a wholesome example to the men now serving under labor commitments.

Clement Simmons, convicted of a second offense of intoxication under an action brought against him for habitual drunkenness, was also given a year in state prison. Simmons, who lives on Hickory street, has given the police a great deal of trouble, and last night they were called to arrest him, as he was very drunk and making threats to kill one of his neighbors.

Long term for a persistent offender was brought into the municipal court again this morning and pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication. A default of a fine of $25 and costs he was sentenced to ninety days at hard labor. Frank Grogan received a similar sentence. Sidney Alme of Stoughton got fifteen days, Henry Tillie of Brooklyn paid a fine of $3 and costs, James Morris got fifteen days and Thomas Cruse and James Cavney twenty.

FARMERS LOSE STOCK POISONED BY ACORNS
Cattle Especially Are Subject to Disease Following Over Indulgence in Fruit of Oak Trees.

An over-indulgence in the innocent looking acorn is causing a considerable loss of livestock throughout Rock county according to reports received from the farmers around Janesville, who are warned by veterinarians to keep their cattle, horses and even hogs, away from pastures where there are numerous oak trees.

Cattle seem to have the greatest fondness for the acorns and as a result are suffering the most. Horses are credited with sufficient horse-sense to stop eating them before the deadly amount is consumed and hogs, while having a wonderful appetite for the forbidden nuts, are gifted with a stomach strong enough to withstand an amount that would kill a horse or perhaps it is due to the fact that a cow has four stomachs and consequently the poisonous acorn has a longer journey to travel and a longer time to do the deadly work. Post mortem examinations by veterinarians show that death is due to an infection of the amason, or third stomach, where the poison acts upon the lining, stopping the proper gastric juices. In the cow's other three stomachs the acorn does not trouble but as soon as it enters the third department it produces a riot.

The animals' fondness for the fruit of the oak is proving a great loss and every year the cattle persist in eating them, often wiping out a whole herd as the result. Among those near Janesville who have lost cows this year are Hugh Hemmingsway and B. W. Little, the latter losing two valuable blooded animals and other farmers have from two to five cows in a herd sick because of this peculiar appetite.

After eating too many of the poisonous nuts, the stricken animal refuses to eat and appears in great pain. This develops into diarrhoea and if proper treatment is not given, death is the result. Physic should be given followed by a large quantity of lard and a building tonic, according to veterinarians.

More sickness is laid this year to "over-acornness" than in some time, due to the great quantity of nut this season and at the present time they are falling to the ground in great numbers, where the stock can gain free access to them.

ANOTHER BAD WRECK ON ST. PAUL ROAD
Mine Cars of Milwaukee to Prairie du Chien Stock Freight Derailed at Milton.

Nine empty stock cars of the St. Paul freight train bound from Milwaukee to Prairie du Chien, were derailed at Milton on an east-bound morning, constituting the third or fourth wreck on the road within the past three days. Spreading rails were the cause of the accident.

The wrecking crew was immediately called out and the main line was cleared by eight o'clock this morning so that the passenger train leaving here for Milwaukee early this morning was but twenty minutes late out of Milton. No one was injured in the accident.

WILLIAM AMBROSE IS STILL MISSING

Janesville Man Who Escaped From Insane Asylum at Mendota Not Seen Since September 26.

That William Ambrose, committed from this city to the state hospital for the insane at Mendota has not been seen since September 26, the day of his escape, was learned by the police yesterday. Some time after his escape he got a letter from him written on the hospital stationery and postmarked Mendota, which led her to believe that he had been returned there. Yesterday she discovered that her surmise was incorrect, that the letter had been written by him before he left the asylum. The patients have lodgings in one building and eat their meals in another, and it was while they were passing in file between the two that Ambrose and another man broke away. His relatives fear that some accident may have befallen him and are now looking for him since he has not been returned or heard from in such a long time. He was apparently in such condition that he was unable to care for his own safety.

ENTERTAIN AT DINNER FOR PROSPECTIVE BRIDES

Mrs. C. C. Tuitt Gives Dinner Party for Miss Alice Burt and Miss Alice Burt. Mrs. C. C. Tuitt entertained Monday evening at a dinner party at her home, 53 S. Academy street, in honor of Miss Alice Burt of Rockford, Ill., and Miss Nora Burt, both prospective brides. There were twelve young ladies present. The dining room was prettily decorated and an excellent menu was served. Following the dinner the evening was spent at music and various amusements.

ORFORDVILLE

Orfordville, Oct. 7.—Sam Robinson of Brownstown, spent Sunday with his Orfordville friends.

Ed Wendt of Juda, was among the out of town visitors in the village on Sunday.

There was no service at the Lutheran church on Sunday, the pastor being absent at one of the other preaching points.

The carpenters are rushing I. J. D. Fairbanks house to completion. They will be ready for the plasterers in a short time.

M. J. Sampson and his helpers are painting E. N. Haugen's large new barn, east of the village.

Claud Cochran and wife were over Sunday visitors with relatives.

The local lodge of Odd Fellows held their regular monthly banquet on Saturday evening. There was a good attendance, several from out of town being present. A most excellent time is reported.

Rev. W. C. Sainsbury preached both morning and evening at the local M. E. church on Sunday, but on account of the threatened weather there was no service at Plymouth.

Mrs. Jane Compton and daughter, Ethel visited with relatives at Beloit, Sunday. They returned on Monday morning.

While Oscar Haugen and two companions were returning from Beloit on Saturday, on their motorcycles, the machine upon which he was riding skidded in the sand, throwing him with great force into the gully at the side of the road. When picked up by his companions, he was unconscious, and it was feared that he had sustained serious injuries. A doctor was summoned and after an examination announced that in his opinion, he would be out in a few days, his injuries consisting chiefly of some severe scratches and bruises about the face and head.

Mrs. F. A. Cole visited her parents in Brodhead on Sunday, returning on Monday morning.

Eight hundred dollars worth of hogs is not a slow after all. Harley Christianson brought to E. J. Taylor on Monday, a drove of spring pigs that netted him that sum. The farmer seems to be in it at times at least. On Wednesday evening the Ladies Aid society of the M. E. church will serve a "New England Supper" at the church parlors. These suppers have proved very popular in other years and doubtless they will receive a good patronage.

On Friday afternoon at the Lutheran Valley church, the congregation tendered to Miss Clara Grunhild a miscellaneous shower in honor of her approaching marriage to Rev. H. S. Froiland. There was a large crowd present and Miss Grunhild was the recipient of a great variety of useful and valuable presents.

On Sunday nearly three hundred friends of Norman Fossum surprised him by gathering at his home in the town of Plymouth and spending the day with him. Mr. Fossum had the misfortune a few weeks ago to lose the sight of one of his eyes by having it pierced by a particle of steel, and the gathering was to demonstrate that his friends desired to extend to him their sympathy in his hour of misfortune. A dainty lunch was served and the afternoon spent in socializing. Before leaving the company presented the host with a purse consisting of nearly one hundred dollars.

Many Ovestrud entertained on Sunday, the Needle Craft of the Lutheran church, of Orfordville, and the Doreen society of Lutheran Valley congregation, in honor of Clara Grunhild.

Take Away Unused Sugar.
People in France when they dine at restaurant frequently appropriate the sugar they don't happen to use. Sugar in France is dear, and what is served with the coffee belongs, by right, to the purchaser as much as the coffee itself. So why not take a lump or two home to little Jeanne or Pierre?

FIFTEEN THOUSAND ATTENDANCE TOTAL PUBLIC PLAYGROUND

Statistics Compiled by Director Finley Show Importance of Newly Organized Activity.

Attendance at the Jefferson and Webster school playgrounds during the initial season just closed was 15,000, according to statistics compiled by Play Supervisor Finley. Baseball game played under his supervision in the vicinity of Riverview Park had an attendance of 780, and the swimming lessons at Goose Island, 2,641, making the total attendance for all the organized play activities 15,501. These statistics, it will be understood, are the result of totaling the daily attendance figures for each activity.

No less than one hundred and sixteen boys, and eighty-two girls were taught to swim by Supervisor Finley and his assistants, an accomplishment of which may mean the saving of several lives in the course of a few years.

These figures, together with others as to the cost of equipping and maintaining the existing playgrounds during the past season, and estimates for maintenance during the coming year, were presented to the board of education last night by E. J. Haugerson on the behalf of H. S. Lovejoy, for the purpose of affording its members a comprehensive idea of the playgrounds, their expense, and their requirements.

The question of the board assuming supervision of the playgrounds, and providing for their support, was broached by Dr. S. B. Buckmaster, president of the board, soon after it had decided to request the council for a general appropriation of $45,000 for the purpose of last year by $1,000 he thought the board could attend to the needs of the playgrounds without asking the city council for an additional appropriation.

He saw that Mayor Bowers was of the opinion that the council could not consider assuming direct control of the playgrounds and this opinion was shared by Councilman Millmore, who is ex-officio a member of the school board.

The suggestion of President Buckmaster was favorably received and resulted in $300 being set aside for playgrounds. This will include the cost of furnishing the Washington school grounds with play equipment as recommended by Mr. Lovejoy and the expense of supervision.

Last season the cost of equipping playgrounds was $72,773, of which $385 was spent for salaries, $13,80 for grading, apparatus and equipment and $33,90 for miscellaneous expenses. The list of equipment as follows:

Grading	$42.00
Lumber	151.51
Tools	10.00
Blacksmith labor	17.10
Labor	34.00
Other equipment	35.20
Total	$313.80

Estimates for the coming season for three grounds are: Salaries for ten weeks $550.00 Apparatus for one new playground 125.00 Ground equipment for new ground 50.00 Miscellaneous, including repairs 75.00 Total $800.00

CHICAGO MUSICIANS PLEASE APOLLO CLUB

Sixteen Pieces of Thomas Orchestra Open Musical Season in Janesville With Fine Program.

Sixteen members of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, formerly known as the Thomas Orchestra, delighted the members of the Apollo club in the first concert of the season at the Congregational church Monday evening.

It is impossible to listen to such musicians, except with rare enjoyment; whether they be sixteen or sixty in number, one is constantly impressed with the ease and absence of effort with which these men play. One cannot, for instance, resist such flute playing, as that done by Mr. Quensel, for it is very rare indeed.

The overture from Mignon was not entirely convincing, as the climaxes did not impress or carry quite as well as they should, due possibly to the small number of players. The Andante Canabile by Tchaikowski was very interesting and well played. The Tarantelle by Saint Saens was extremely effective and played with great brilliance for sixteen men. It was one of the most enjoyable numbers. The Minuets of Beethoven and Hummel, as arranged by Frederick Stock, were two of the most pleasing and effective numbers. The Minuet, however, did not captivate on this occasion as it has on others, due in a measure to the personality of the conductor. The Cello Solo—"The Swan," by Saint Saens was well played, although the selection was not especially enjoyable.

The familiar music of Faust received generous applause. The two Minuets were much appreciated and the one by Polonze was a gem. It is not the complex difficulties in music that makes it immortal, but rather its simplicity.

It is always pleasant to listen to Mr. Zukowsky, as his tone is pleasing and enjoyable. The little Viennese waltz by Kreisler displayed a delicacy in bowing that was very pleasing and the three dances by Edward German were effective for this orchestra. The harmonic coloring in the first and the dash and brilliancy of the last were especially strong. In the last number the brass section was badly misused to sustain the big climax at the end.

This orchestra is under the management of Mr. Irving W. Jones, who is musical advisor of the Lecture Department of the Extension Division of the University at Madison, Wis. Significant of the present predominance of symphonic music and the growing demand for it, prompted the trustees of the university to give, under Mr. Jones' direction, this great treat to the public. Mr. Jones' little volucres that preceded each number added much interest. The Apollo club deserves much credit for bringing this orchestra to the city.

George S. Parker, president of the Apollo Club, introduced the orchestra to the audience in a gracious manner.

FEWER APPLICATIONS FOR LABOR PERMITS

Requirements of Law Act as Check. Industrial School Has Also Some Influence.

Applications by children for permits to labor have fallen off to a marked extent of late according to Judge Maxfield of the municipal court because of the exacting requirements of the state law. This provides that no labor permit shall be granted to a child unless it has passed the eighth grade in the public schools or its equivalent, or that its labor is required for its own support. That the family, or a certificate of a physician is presented to the effect that the child's health will be endangered by attending school. The requirement that children between the ages of 14 and 16 with labor permits shall attend the day industrial school for at least two hours a day five days of each week is also believed to have some influence in reducing the number of applications for labor permits. Children knowing they will have to continue school work are more hesitant about calling for them.

Now is a good time to secure photographs for Christmas gifts.

Perhaps it was a pretty good thing after all that the New York boxing commission called a halt to the Langford-Smith go of a week or so ago. A good thing for Gunboat, anyway. It is extremely unlikely that Smith would have been able to get away with anything better than quite a few bad swellings and bruises. Clever as he is for a "hope," Gunboat would surely have come in for a pretty bad beating at the hands of the little colored cyclone. If there are any living fighters who can remain in the ring for any while with what may take place in the gala event that approaches. Ty proceeds to explain in his peculiarly gifted and engaging style that the world's series of this year, 1913, will be without doubt the greatest of all time. What conjecturing he does as to the probable winner is rather mild and half-hearted and he frankly admits that the teams are so evenly matched as to make prognosticating of the outcome a thing to go at rather gingerly. Neither team on their part in a walk-away and both found the opposition in their races strong enough to provide quite a fight for the tag. As a general thing in a world's series one team or the other has won the flag quite handsomely and with little effort, showing apparently a greater strength than the pennant winner of the other organization. This year, however, such is not thus and both Giants and Athletics appear very evenly matched. It seems to Ty that in a case like this the team winning the first game will have the bulge on the opposition for the remainder of the series. The Athletics surely seem to have the Giants shaded in the clouting department and then again the Giants have the pitching staff and are an awful bunch of fighters. But look at the fielding class of those Mackamen! Yes, and you can't tell what that bunch of youthful whirling prodigies will do. Pick the winner the best way you can Ty and the rest of the experts seem rather non-committal. Any way, it'll be a grand little scrap.

The football season at the University of Pennsylvania has started off with a rush and the coaches declare that the speed the varsity has shown thus far will be maintained throughout the season. Wheat the student body cheers lustily. Under the care and tutelage of George Brooke, who has charge of football things at Penn, they are expected to tear the hair of all who oppose them. A strong schedule has been arranged for the Penn crew, which they plan to walk through with ease.

EDLER MAKING GOOD ON COLLEGE ELEVEN

Scored Two Touchdowns Against De Kalb Normal Last Saturday in Walkaway Game.—Is Playing Halfback.

Raymond Edler, renowned in local high school circles and throughout the state as one of the best athletes ever turned out of a high school in this state, is fast making good on the Beloit college football squad. Last Saturday he entered the De Kalb normal game in the second period, and scored two touchdowns, besides gaining much ground on halfback runs. He is playing at left half, his old high school position, and is slated for a regular berth on the eleven, if he keeps his present stride. Beloit have some great material this fall, and if Edler succeeds in gaining a regular position, it will mean that Ward, a regular man from last year, will be ousted from his place.

WILL JANESVILLE DEFEAT FREEPORT?

With Seven Veterans Back in Fold, Locals Should Redeem Themselves of the Edgerton Defeat.

With the Edgerton game firm in the minds of Coach Curtis and his squad, and with prospects of having a fast team yet this year, practice was resumed last evening for the first time since the terrible defeat of last week. But if Edgerton could have seen the eleven which wore the blue and white last evening, they would shiver at the thought of playing them. The biggest change of the year took place last evening, when Curtis placed experienced men into the line. Following is the lineup which ran signals for over an hour: Smiley, I. E.; Mickelson, L. E.; Rau, I. E.; Monat, C.; Barnes, R. E.; McVicar, R. E.; Stewart, R. E.; Hayes, Q. B.; Atwood, I. B.; Dearborn, R. B.; and Dalton, I. B.

Reports have been received at the local camp that Freeport are out for the Illinois title. They won from Rochelle last Saturday by a 13 to 6 score. Curtis realized that if he had to send his inexperienced team of last week into the game Saturday that he might as well cancel the contest, but he feels now that with his hopes qualified that the locals must and will win. Dalton is the biggest help. He is one of the fastest men on the team and is always good for a plunge of five or six yards. In an open field he and Atwood are sensational, and hard men to stop. Dearborn is slated to do much of the short, and rushing in the line, and may be used for first down in many cases.

The line are seventy-five per cent. better now than before. However, the line of last week, will be given plenty of workout so that if they are called upon in a game, they will be ready to do justice by smashing opposing plays and cleaning up a victory. Tonight and every night this week, with the possible exception of Friday, the team will be given a hard scrimmage. Plans are to send a heavy line against the local regulars, in hopes of giving them good defense work. New formations have been inaugurated, with the help of several prominent players of former years, who have been on hand lately, to view the 1913 prospects.

REFORM COMES HIGH.
The Oshkosh Northwestern, for the past few years a staunch advocate of all kinds of reform, complains bitterly over the prospect of a re-assessment of the city property, at the best of a little group of disgruntled tax payers. The paper says in the opening paragraph of a column editorial:

"In the opinion of The Northwestern and the same thing is to be heard on every hand where local citizens are now discussing this question—the demand which has been made on the state tax commission for a re-assessment of tax valuations in this city is a serious mistake, amounting, in fact, to an inexcusable blunder. While a handful of citizens for reasons of their own, may think it desirable, to put the city to the trouble and expense of a revaluation of assessments, The Northwestern feels confident it is stating merely the plain truth when it says that local public sentiment is strongly and unanimously opposed to such a move, and that a large majority of the people regret that the thing has gone even so far as an appeal to the state tax commission asking for a re-assessment."

The city of Oshkosh is fortunate in having a "handful of citizens" who were willing to sign a complaint, for the reform law provides that any man can fill the bill, as was the case when Janesville was haled into court by a single individual. Almost any town can find one disgruntled brother, and this was what the law contemplated.

The re-assessment scheme is the finest ever devised for raising money, and the fact that five counties are already in the throes of examination, with others on the waiting list, suggests that the state will be combed over within a reasonable time.

The city of Janesville had its assessment raised fifty per cent and the city of Oshkosh is likely to share the same fate. It might be well for the tax payers of the "Sawdust" city to remember that we face a tax budget of thirty-six million dollars, incurred by a reform legislature after eight months of strenuous fighting.

We have enjoyed the music, and the entertainment furnished has been so rare and beautiful that other states have flocked to our borders to study our methods. The pinnacle of fame towers aloft to proclaim to the world the great reform state of Wisconsin.

But all good things come high. The morning after the ball produces many headaches. We have had the fan, and it now becomes us to step up and pay the fiddler. The tax budget is not a dream, as the tax payers of the state will discover as time advances.

The editorial referred to is a reprint of articles published in the Gazette two years ago when the city faced a similar experience, but plaintive pleas and arguments amount to nothing. The re-assessment will come because the state needs the money to meet the most extravagant appropriations ever authorized by any state.

The city of Oshkosh will be fortunate if favored with real estate assessors who know something about local values and with industrial men who know the difference between a printing press and a threshing machine.

PUPIT WARNINGS.
Sizzling denunciation of the "survival of the fittest" in the drama and the "intimate modern dances, mother of vice," came yesterday from three Chicago pulpits, all on the south side. While the Rev. Frederick E. Hopkins of Park Manor Congregational church attacked the "cesspool drama," Dr. Melbourne P. Boynton at Lexington Avenue Baptist church and Jenkin Lloyd Jones at All Souls were exhorting the tango.

Dr. Boynton has been making a special study of conditions in public dance halls, which he found grave even with the waltz and two-step. With the tango feature added he thinks it time for the churches to quit talk and begin action.

Calling it "Unashamed Hugging," "Mixed dancing is bad enough," Dr. Boynton said, "but dancing is becoming more evil every day. The new tangles of arms and legs, the fancy dips and darts, the open, unashamed hugging will go to more disgusting lengths. Let all godly people denounce this muckmaking, maiden murdering, man destroying institution."

"The minds of both men and women are blanked by the dance. They are empty headed and can find interest in little else. Their nights are spent in the dizzy whirl and their days in dreaming of the next dance. The mental ruin accomplished by the dance hall is beyond belief. A dance hall manager said to me concerning his patrons: 'They know nothing else; where else can they go?' His crowd was dancing the tango while he spoke."

Sees Tango on Low Level.
"We are on the threshold of the winter's season in Chicago," said the pastor of All Souls. "I know not which will be more deplorable—the shivering, suffering of the poor, the crying, underfed, poorly clothed, and wretchedly housed children of the poor, or the shivering souls who in delectable dresses and swallow-tailed elegances will change after pleasure, trying to make respectable the tango and to justify by the sophistries of wealth those pleasures that had their origin on the low levels of lust and greed."

"The suffering of the children in the wretched and accursed shacks of the poor is obvious, is immediate, is, to a degree, measurable and immediately remedial, but the suffering of the spiritually starved children of the rich, whose souls are unfed by the nourishing milk of the gospel of simplicity and love, is cast far into the future."

This is the sort of censure expressed in three Chicago pulpits last Sunday, and it is safe to say that the sentiment expressed voices the pulpits of the land as well as an army of thoughtful people who deplore that the standard of virtue is sadly lowered by the modern dance. The indecent exposure of the present day costume, is bad enough and there is no occasion to emphasize it by teapiece-chore art. Modesty is a virtue which just now needs protecting.

HIGH PRICED BUTTER.
With grass as fresh as the month of June and an abundance of all kinds of coarse feed, many people are at a loss to understand why butter should command winter prices. Some one suggested the other day, that possibly the condensed milk factories, which are rapidly coming to the front, might have something to do with it, and it certainly looks that way.

One of these companies, located at Madison, with an abundance of capital, is establishing a string of butter factories, like the one at Footville. The product is sold in car lots and the company is said to be $100,000 behind in orders.

These factories are said to be able to pay double the price for milk that creameries can afford to pay, and it looks very much as though the creamery might be compelled to go. When this happens, a substitute for butter will be in demand, and the foolish tax on oleomargarine, will be removed.

Condensed milk is used almost exclusively in the South, and there is a big export demand for it. Wisconsin leads as a dairy state and will naturally take a hand in this new industry, which is so rapidly developing. The day of twenty-five cent butter, is of the past, and ten cent milk is among the possibilities. The tariff is not responsible.

It is estimated by the government that the new federal income tax will produce about eight-three million dollars and that the tax will be distributed among four hundred and twenty-five thousand tax payers. This is exclusive of the corporation tax which is good for about thirty-five million more. While the outlook for business is more or less a problem, the outlook for taxes is fairly well defined and the program will be completed as soon as the state servants make their demands. There will be something doing in taxes for quite some time.

It is estimated that the annual consumption of food stuffs in New York city represents an outlay of $645,000,000 or close to two million dollars a day. That's a part of the home market. New York is also the gateway for foreign products, and enormous volumes are scattered over the country every day. More than eighty per cent of the sugar we consume, is handled through New York, as well as a great bulk of the spices.

According to statistics compiled by the Orange Judd Farmer, the world supply of grain is short one and a quarter billion bushels and the bread-stuff supply a half billion bushels short of last year. The outlook for cheaper prices is not very encouraging unless free cereals from other countries make up the deficiency.

The man Spencer, who confesses to the recent murder of Mrs. Rexroat in Chicago, seems to be a fiend incarnate. He brags about a dozen other victims which he has disposed of during the year. Admirers of the tango will be shocked to learn that he had some reputation as an instructor.

Colonel Roosevelt is off for another extended hunting trip in South America. It is safe to assume that the American people will be kept advised of his whereabouts and that he will be home in time for the next campaign.

Signs of the Times.

You may play your concertinas and your fiddles and your flutes, with your trumpets or your bucs you may fill the air with toots; you may organize a chorus of a thousand voices sweet, you may charter Mary Gardea (and folks say she can't be beat; you may make her play the loud piano and fill the room with music; you may stand aloof, but there is no music sweeter than the r/r/n upon the roof! When the earth has scorched and shriveled in a dreary, drastic drought, when the lac grass and leaves have withered in siroccos from the South, when the sun for weeks together has been sizzling in its grease, and for weary, roasted mortals there was neither rest or peace, when the countryside is blistered, and all blistered is the town, then there is no music sweeter than the r/r/n a-comin' down! I can hear it splash and splatter on the shingles o'er my head, bringing hope to all the dry bones, bringing life to some things dead, like a saintly benediction it is coming in the night, and the world will wake tomorrow in a glow of new delight; though the stars may sing together as they sang o'er Judah plain, they can give no sweeter music than the falling of the rain.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear or a painful hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be removed, the tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh of the Eustachian Tube, if the patient will send for our circulars, free.

Handy Correspondence Cards.
"Ready made correspondence" cards have been in vogue in France for several years. On each card are printed some four dozen or so commonplace remarks with which holiday makers contrive to fill up a page of letter paper—"Just arrived," "Weather bad," "This is a bad hotel," "Very dull here," "Jolly people," "Send me some money," and the like. One merely puts a cross against the sentence that expresses his sentiment.

Most Beautiful Silks:
How far away are we from the days of stiff heavy silks—when a silk dress to be fashionable had to creak and groan at every move and stand out from the figure most rigidly. The woman of today demands that her silks be soft and clinging—and fall in rich, graceful folds. It's a happy tendency and has resulted in our gathering together from home and abroad the most exquisite assortment of wonderfully woven and rarely tinted silks that has ever been displayed in Janesville. ASK APPROPRIATION BUT LITTLE HIGHER

BOARD OF EDUCATION MAKES REQUEST TO COUNCIL FOR $45,000.

ONE THOUSAND MORE

Eight Hundred Dollars Set Aside For Maintenance of Playgrounds—More Teachers To Be Engaged.

Forty-five thousand dollars, just one thousand more than was asked for and received last year, and four thousand dollars more than was received the previous year, is the appropriation that will be requested from the Council by the Board of Education for school purposes during the ensuing school year according to action taken by the Board at its regular October meeting last evening.

This will provide for the supervision and maintenance of the Jefferson school and Webster playgrounds and possibly the establishment of a playground on the Washington school grounds, the Board having voted to set aside $500 for playgrounds; the high school and one each to the Jefferson and Adams schools, besides the other casual expenses of teachers' salaries, janitor service, fuel and light, repairs and incidentals.

Less Needed For Repairs.

What makes it possible for an increase of but one thousand dollars in the annual appropriation to provide for the additions to the instructional force, for playgrounds and other innovations is the fact that the expense of repairs to school buildings will be very much less than this year. Less than $2,000 was spent in repairs to school buildings last year, in renovating and redecorating the rooms, not to mention the cost of repairs to ward school buildings.

Tuition Doubled.

Decision to increase the tuition charged to non-resident pupils attending the high school from $19 a year to $38 will double the income from that source. There are now ninety pupils paying tuition according to existing tuition rates pay $770 in tuition to the school treasury. The increased rates will make the income from tuition $3,420. Last year the average cost of the high school per pupil was more than $38. A new state law authorizes districts maintaining free high schools to charge a week tuition for non-resident pupils and the board of education last night decided to take advantage of this provision.

More Teachers Needed.

The need of additional teachers was brought to the Board by Superintendent H. C. Buell. At least one more would be required in the high school to teach two classes in English, two in history, one in algebra, and one in geometry. This was a full day's work for one teacher. Others were now carrying this work under a great handicap. The enrollment in the high school this year is 441, twenty-five more than last year, requiring the creation of new class sections and a reappointment of the work. On the motion of Arthur M. Fisher the Committee on Teachers was authorized to engage another teacher for the high school.

Grade Rooms Crowded.

The Committee on Teachers was also authorized to secure an addition of funds for the Jefferson school, another for the Adams school and a third if needed. At the Jefferson school one is required to assist in the fourth and fifth grade work and an assistant in intermediate grades is also needed at the Adams school. Seven grade rooms are now being used for more than forty pupils each.

Will Borrow $5,000.

Five thousand dollars will be required to pay school expenses until such time as the appropriation for school purposes in the next budget becomes available and the Clerk of the Board was last night authorized to ask the City Council to borrow that sum to be placed to the credit of the tax collection. Ever since the time of the recommendation made from September to December it has been necessary for the Board of Education to borrow money to tide them over that period.

It is considered better fiscal policy than to carry over several thousand dollars one year to another.

To Remodel Lighting.

Superintendent H. C. Buell brought to the attention of the Board that the lighting of the high school assembly room is inadequate and antiquated and recommended that they accept the proposal of James Quirk, the janitor, who is an electrician, to install modern fixtures free of charge if the Board would purchase the fixtures. He explained that the new lighting would require less current than the fixtures and lamps now used and be more efficient in every respect. The recommendation was referred to the committee on Buildings and Grounds with power to act.

Minor Matters.

The Committee on Teachers was given authority to take action on the recommendation of Superintendent Buell that a small fund be set aside to pay for the regular services of a pianist to play for the girls' gymnasium exercises. Their director has experienced difficulty in getting her pupils to play regularly. He estimated that $3 a week would prove sufficient for this purpose.

Clerk of the Board S. C. Burnham was authorized to purchase supplementary readers at a cost not to exceed $300 and eight Webster dictionaries for use in the ward schools.

The committee on Equipment and Supplies was authorized to secure the necessary equipment for new rooms.

Reports were presented by the committees on Finance and Buildings and Grounds. Mr. Thayer recommended the installation of an interior telephone system between the superintendent's office and the assembly room of the high school so that Miss Elizabeth McClellan, Superintendent Buell's secretary, would not be obliged to climb the stairs every time a pupil was called to the telephone. The recommendation was acted upon favorably.

It was decided to renovate the Grant school during the holiday vacation.

The complaint of H. H. Coplan, instructor in manual training, that the motor used to operate the planer was underpowered and no longer capable of operating that machine to advantage, was presented by Mr. Thayer. He recommended its replacement or repair.

THREE AUTOMOBILES SUFFER ACCIDENTS

J. B. Humphrey and Roessling Bros' Autos Collide on Hill—Sollie Car Hits Lamp Post.

Three automobiles owned and driven by Janesville men have figured in accidents during the last twenty-four hours. Last night the automobile of S. Sollie, new manager of the Birmingham & Hixon Lumber Company ran into the Corinthian electric light standard in front of the Electric Company's office and about one o'clock this afternoon the touring car of J. B. Humphrey and a delivery automobile belong to Roessling Bros' collided on East Milwaukee street in between the Wisconsin Telephone company building and the Colvin bakery.

The accident to Mr. Sollie's car occurred about 10:30 o'clock in the evening and was caused by failure of the brakes to respond promptly. The machine was damaged but slightly because it was provided with a protective bumper, but the light standard was demolished.

The other collision occurred as the Humphrey and Roessling cars were going up hill the former car being close behind the other. The delivery auto slowed down so suddenly that Mr. Humphrey to avoid striking it, had to turn his machine into the right curb. It ran over the curb upon the walk blowing up the right tire and cracking the engine. No damage was done to the Roessling machine.

COMMITTEE TO PROBE STREET CAR SERVICE

TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND CLUB INTERESTED IN NEW PHASE OF CITY AFFAIRS.

REPORT ON FACTORIES

Three Propositions are Considered at Regular Meeting Monday Night—Elect L. J. Cronin Director.

In addition to hearing reports on three factories under consideration as possible Janesville industries, members of the Twenty-Five of Mr. said club, at their regular monthly meeting last evening, named a committee which will investigate the transportation service which is being supplied by the Janesville Traction company.

The members of the committee are: A. Knuth, W. S. Rice, P. S. Peterson, J. W. Van Bynum and S. M. Jacobs. They were instructed to make a formal complaint to the management at Rockford.

The suggestion that some action be taken in this matter came from Albert Knuth, who declared that the public sentiment of the city demanded some sort of improvement in the street car service. Mayor Fathers, who spoke briefly on the matter said that the company had promised substantial improvements as soon as the bridge street bridge is completed. It was the opinion expressed by members of the club that if facilities and service would be much increased, reports on three factory propositions under consideration by the board of directors were presented and discussed. Most prominence was given to the Ekroth piano factory of Rockford which was seriously discussed at the last meeting of the club.

Before entering into the matter of raising proper subscriptions of stock to bring the Ekroth factory to this city, J. F. Richardson, chairman of the meeting in the afternoon, Mr. Crook, stated that it was the intention of the club to find a capable business man, who in addition to investing a small amount of capital in the factory, was sure of a successful future and would be in a large demand, was again emphasized by the investigation, and it was the opinion of all the directors that the proposition was so good to look before the adjournment of the meeting it was learned that a substantial amount had already been pledged to meet the funds needed to bring the factory to Janesville and that the remainder would be raised within a short time.

At the motion of one of the members E. T. Fish and L. J. Cronin were added to the committee composed of J. F. Richardson, A. A. Hamer, R. M. Hostwick, Jas. Smith, Prof. W. T. Thiele, P. P. Starr and J. J. Watkins to complete further negotiations to clinch the Ekroth factory.

Favorable reports on a Milwaukee concern which manufactures machinery of various kinds, were made by A. E. Bingham, William Kuhlman, P. E. Green and M. P. Richardson, members of a committee that investigated the plant. The concern employs sixty-six men, all of whom are skilled machinists. The factory appeared to be successful in every way. The owners do not wish to move until the coming spring because of standing orders that will keep them working full force all winter. It was noted by the local men that the company was working overtime and barely had room enough to manufacture their goods. It was proposed that a committee of at least three be named to look closer into the standing of the company and report at the next monthly meeting. The naming of the committee was left to Frank Crook, president of the club.

Reports were also made on a Madison factory, the owners of which wish to locate in some other site because of labor trouble, and further investigation will be made by the club directors to secure the factory for this city. Neither factory asks for a bonus but expects to enlarge their capital by stock or bonds to secure a larger site for the purpose of putting out more goods.

Lawrence J. Cronin was elected on the board of directors of the club to

WOMAN'S PAGE

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am fifteen years old. All the people take me for seventeen. I met a boy of twenty-one and think the world of him. He and I went together for months and my folks seemed not to care, but papa and him had a little trouble over some work he had done and papa made me quit going with him.

(1)—Do you think that if we wait till I am eighteen to go with him, if we still want to, that we should if the folks do object? He never took but one drink in his life.

(2)—Am I doing right if I go with another boy that is real nice, but just to get to go? Had I better quit when I think this other boy thinks a good deal of me, as he would never go with a girl till he met me?

(3)—He never kissed me good night till we had gone together two weeks. Do you think it is wrong to kiss each other good night?

(4)—Do you think it a good plan not to pay any attention to each other for a month and then see each other and talk it over?

(5)—Is six years much difference in a couple's age, say when I am eighteen and he is twenty-four?

QUESTION BOX.

I don't see why you should give up a good friend because he and your father do not agree about a small matter of business.

(1)—If you still love each other when you are eighteen you can marry without your parents' consent. But be sure that you really love each other and are willing to give up a great deal for each other and that the man is able to support a wife properly.

(2)—If you were very fond of one boy you wouldn't care to go out with another one just for a good time. Don't give up all your boy friends for just one that don't show the one who cares most for you that you can have a good time without him.

(3)—If you are engaged to be married it is all right to kiss each other good night. But you are too young to be engaged, though old enough to begin to be dignified.

(4)—No, I don't. If you really love each other you will want to be together a good part of the time.

(5)—No.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am fourteen years old and rather tall for my age.

(1)—My lower limbs seem rather fleshy in comparison to the rest of my body. Can you tell me some harmless way to reduce them?

(2)—I have many blackheads on my face and the pores of my nose seem rather open. How can I rid myself of these?

(1)—Your legs have probably outgrown the rest of you. Don't worry, my dear. You'll catch up to them. Meantime wear your skirts to your shoe tops, or even a little lower, and nobody will notice that your legs are disproportionately large.

(2)—Wash the face with hot water and a good soap. Then massage it with cold cream. A little of this treatment will soften the skin and you can prick the blackheads and gently squeeze them out. Then dab peroxide on the spot.

For the enlarged pores use witch hazel two or three times a day by patting it gently on the skin and letting it dry there.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Will you please tell me how to wash men's white silk shirts so they don't turn yellow? YOURS HASTELY.

Make a suds of warm water and a good white soap and rinse the shirts up and down in this until they are clean. Then rinse well in cold water and in the last rinsing put a few drops of bluing. Keep the shirts between blue tissue paper when not in use.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

A

WHERE TO FIND HAPPINESS.

Among my friends there is one woman with whom I never communicate without hearing of some domestic disturbance. She is always in hot water.

One day she has just received word that her mother-in-law is coming to spend a month with her; again, the children have been exposed to the inauspicious time the house has developed several leaks and the landlord keeps putting her off with promises of repairs, and yet she simply cannot move in the dead of winter; and again, her maid has come home drunk and been discharged, and she knows she will have a terrible time getting another.

Now this woman has the best bases for happiness—a splendid husband, healthy children and financial security—and yet I never know her to say that it was well with her when asked about her affairs.

The older I grow, the more thoroughly I realize the oft stated truth that happiness and peace are not a state of affairs but a state of mind.

Only to the old truth I want to add, and a state of body.

The woman I write of is not well, and I have no doubt that ill health is the disfiguring blue glass through which she sees her blessings.

I have two letters at hand, I am going to publish one of them soon. The first is from a woman who has had nine children. It is still so young that she is taken for one of them, and despite financial stringency, bereavement, and the domestic disturbances that must come with such a family, she thinks the world a wonderful place. The other is from a woman with only three children, who is utterly bowed down and discouraged with the burden of her debt.

It is seldom that every outward circumstance is just in time even in the most harmonious life.

But if you have health and a right attitude of mind, you can be happy in spite of inevitable annoyances and disturbances. And, indeed, that is the only way to be happy. If you wait to be happy until everything is just so, you will never find the chance.

Christ realized that peace—which is another and more beautiful name for happiness—must come from within and not from without. For you remember what he said to his disciples, "And when ye come into an house, first say, 'Peace be to this house,' and if the house be at peace, your peace come upon it; but if it be not at peace, let your peace return to you."

So neither circumstance nor wealth nor possessions nor desires satisfied, nor even the power of God itself, can give you peace and happiness if they be not in your own heart.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

Oilcloth glued to the wall behind the sink and underneath the chair makes a good substitute for wall cement and is easily washed.

Dish towels washed with soda will take grease out and with less soap and rubbing.

Stuff each panel of your silk parasol with soft tissue paper before putting away and it will not split in the creases.

To remove spots with gasoline without leaving the usual objectionable ring when dry, first dampen with water around the spot to be cleaned. Sponge with gasoline, inside this ring. In the usual way, hang in the open air for a few minutes and press. This will leave no ring.

THE TABLE.

Rummage Pickles—Chop three quarts of green tomatoes, one quart of ripe tomatoes, three small bunches of green parsley, one bunch of red peppers, three green peppers, one large ripe cucumber and one quart of small green cucumbers. Cover with one-third cup of salt. Let stand overnight. In the morning drain well and add three pints of vinegar, two pounds of brown sugar, one teaspoonful each of mustard and pepper and one tablespoonful of cinnamon. Store cold in half pint fruit jars. Only small portion may be opened at once.

Jelly Roll—Three eggs, one and one-half cups of sugar, grated rind of one lemon, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, one-half cup of cold water, one and one-half cups of flour, one-half teaspoonful of soda, one slightly rounded teaspoonful of cream of tartar. Beat the eggs; gradually beat in the sugar and grated rind, then add the flour with soda and cream of tartar, alternately with the water. Bake in a buttered shallow pan; turn upside down on a cloth and trim off the four sides (these are crusty and break in rolling). Have ready a tumbler of jelly beaten quite smooth with a silver fork. Spread the jelly over the cake, then, keeping the cloth between the fingers and the cake, roll the cake over and over, having the cloth against the whole width of the cake. This will keep the cake from cracking while rolling. At last roll the cake in the cloth. The pan must be of good size so that the sheet of cake may be thin.

Oatmeal Biscuit—Pour two cups of hot milk over one cup of uncooked oatmeal; add one-fourth of a cup of butter or other shortening and one rounded teaspoonful of salt; when cooled to a lukewarm temperature add to a lukewarm yeast, mixed with half a cup of lukewarm milk or water, half a cup of molasses and about two cups each of entire wheat and white flour; beat the mixture about ten minutes, cover and set aside to become light. Cut down and turn into small timbale molds, or into muffin pans, carefully buttered. Then nearly doubled in bulk bake about twenty minutes.

Sauce for Broiled Live Lobster—Melted butter without other ingredients is often used. Lemon juice, paprika, chopped parsley are sometimes added.

Perhaps you know—perhaps you don't—that you should never fold up an umbrella when it is wet. Always let it stand with handle downwards so that the water can run off the ends of the ribs instead of running towards the ferrule end and rusting that part of the umbrella.

That the peelings from peaches or pears may be used to make a syrup for waffles, cakes or bread. Cover the peelings with water and cook until soft; then squeeze through a bag. Measure the juice and add three-quarters of a cupful of sugar for each cupful of juice. Cook until thick like syrup.

That if you like soft tender crust on bread rub the surface over before baking with melted butter. Some prefer to bake the bread first, then rub on the butter.

Speaking of butter. Butter is today retailing at thirty-six cents a pound. Did you ever buy butter? Now don't hold up your hands in horror and say "I NEVER could eat the hard stuff I must have butter." Personally butter is my choice, but the difference in price may command the use of butterine in families of small incomes, or in families that simply refuse to pay what they (rightly) deem an exorbitant price.

While in Chicago for this paper for some ten days back, I had the opportunity of seeing butterine made in a factory. Now, this is not intended as an "ad" for butterine, merely as a suggestion that if one wishes to reduce their expenses they can find ways and means to do so.

The ingredients of butterine are all sanctioned by the pure food law and in the making is not touched by hands until the wrappers, a band of silks in spotless uniform, receive it to wrap in box the finished product. The most rigid rules are enforced as to cleanliness, and in no home can be found more sanitary conditions. To be fair and square I have even given some of our creameries. Candidly speaking, the butterine factory would win the medal for ideal conditions for cleanliness and the enforcement of rules laid down for the safe-guarding of the public health.

One of the greatest friends of Health in this world is Walking. It warms the blood and shakes the whole body machinery; it improves the body and stirs the brain to action. To walk to work, to walk home, is to conquer all the little worries and annoyances of the day. To breathe in the fresh air, to walk erect is inspiring. Everyone should walk at least a mile out of doors each day, especially women, as they are more shut in than men, and their delicate nervous machinery demands it.

It is astonishing to see the way some people "lone" along, serenely unconscious of the fact that their head is down, their shoulders rounded in a way that is bound to make of them the opposite of a healthy, well formed person.

If a child is taught while young to walk straight and is watched carefully, he will grow up with the inclination firmly fixed as a good habit. One is forced to admit the fact, mainly bearing of the soldier boys. They walk erect, as the kind Creator intended all of us to. They give their lungs a chance to expand, to swell the air from the very bottom of the air that if left by improper breathing, will tend to put one in the ranks of consumptives. Think a minute. How do you walk?

DOMESTIC SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

CONDUCTED BY MRS. ALICE OTCHELL KIRK

whether it shall be cooked fast or slow. We cook our vegetables either fast or slow to soften the cellulose and develop flavor. Take for example a half-boiled potato. What a gray, heavy-looking thing it is compared with the well-done snowy-white potato, dry and mealy. It is true in vegetables as in meats, that only a short time is needed to develop flavors in either, while there are others which need longer cooking. Again, long cooking may either dissipate or wholly change the flavor. The old method of cooking cabbage for hours to make it digestible is an exploded theory, when shredded cabbage cooked rapidly in boiling water for thirty minutes is tender of good flavor and white as snow. This applies to many of the vegetables of young growth, such as asparagus, beans and peas, and if they have to stand when done for some time, cover closely and stand in a pot of hot water.

To Prevent Discoloring.

All starchy vegetables which have to be covered should have a cheese-cloth under the cover, which will absorb the steam and oils, which otherwise will fall back and discolor the vegetables and make them heavy.

Many of our soups have a water for foundation, which really plays no part so far as flavor is concerned. Dry saving the water in which vegetables are cooked, which will give both flavor and added nutrition to soup. Less than a third of the mineral matter and about the same of starchy and proteid substances are dissolved out into this water when cooking vegetables. For instance, the water in which cabbage, cauliflower or beans have been cooked needs only a little milk, butter and thickening to furnish a good, tasty broth. One of the reasons why vegetables should always be cooked in boiling water is so that the cooking is begun at once and as little as possible lost in the water.

Sweet Potato Puff.

Material—Medium-sized potatoes, eight; salt, one teaspoonful; finely chopped parsley, one teaspoonful; butter, three teaspoonfuls; cream, three tablespoonfuls; paprika, and beaten eggs.

Directions—Wash and put the potatoes into a saucepan to boil quickly in a little boiling water until tender. Drain; when cool, skin and mash. Add all the seasoning and beat until light. Butter the roasting pan and fill six or eight of them. Brush over with the remaining butter and a good sprinkling of brown sugar. Bake until light and brown in a quick oven.

To Keep Plants.

A good way in which to keep plants fresh without watering them when the house must be closed is to take all the plants to the cellar or some other cold place and set them in tubs, with an ordinary brick under each flower pot. Pour into the tubs just enough water to cover the bricks. It is best to place the tubs by an east window if possible.

Salads and Sandwiches.

The unusual always appeals to most people, and when a combination never before heard of is mentioned, we are all anxious to try it. Here is one which will at least excite remark.

Poppy Seed Salad.—Grate a little sage cheese over some freshly washed and well dried lettuce; add the finishing touch by sprinkling over it some freshly roasted poppy seed, which adds an unusual flavor. Serve with French dressing.

Olive and Celery Sandwiches.—Chop in a bowl equal quantities of tender heart celery and stuffed olives; moisten with salad dressing to spread easily, and spread on well buttered bread.

Mint Cucumber Sandwiches.—Place thinly sliced crisp cucumber dipped in French dressing, and sprinkle with mint finely chopped. Put together just before serving.

Salad of Nuts and Green Peas.—A delicious salad may be made by combining green peas with English walnuts in the proportion of a third of nuts to two-thirds of peas, with any desired salad dressing. Serve on lettuce leaves with a slice or two of tomato for a garnish.

Summer Salad.—Cook a quart of shelled Lima beans in salted water. When done, drain the beans and chill them. Peel and cut into very small dice two crisp tart apples and chop fine two sweet green peppers, from which the seeds and ribs have been removed. Mix all together with mayonnaise flavored with onion juice.

Chestnuts and apples are a good combination, as are any nuts with good flavored apple.

Scalp Trouble for Over Ten Years

Small Bunches on Scalp. Itched, Formed Scale. Hair Came Out. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Cured in Two Months.

268 Harrison St., Elyria, Ohio.—"My case was a scalp trouble. I first noticed small bunches on my scalp which commenced to itch and I would scratch them and in time they got larger, forming a scale or scab with a little pus, and chunks of hair would come out when I would scratch them off. It caused me to lose most of my hair. It became thin and dry and lifeless. I was troubled for over ten years with it until it got so bad I was ashamed to go to a barber to get my hair cut.

"I tried everything I could get hold of, and ———, but received no cure until I commenced using Cuticura Soap and Ointment when the scale commenced to disappear. The way I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment was to wash my scalp twice a day with warm water and Cuticura Soap and rub on the Cuticura Ointment. I received benefit in a couple of weeks and was cured in two months." (Signed) F. J. Busher, Jan. 28, 1913.

Why not have a clear scalp, soft white hands, a clean scalp and good hair? It is just a trifle to get. Cuticura Soap with an occasional use of Cuticura Ointment will bring about these coveted conditions in most cases when all else fails. Sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

DOCTORS DID NOT HELP HER

But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Mrs. LeClear's Health—Her Own Statement.

Detroit, Mich.—"I am glad to discover a remedy that relieves me from my suffering and pains. For two years I suffered bearing down pains and got all run down. I was under a nervous strain and could not sleep at night. I went to doctors here in the city but they did not do me any good."

"Seeing Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised, I tried it. My health improved wonderfully and I am now quite well again. No woman suffering from female ills will regret if she takes this medicine."—Mrs. JAMES G. LECLEAR, 336 Hunt St., Detroit, Mich.

Another Case. Philadelphia, Pa.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is all you claim it to be. About two or three days before my periods I would get bad backaches; then pains in right and left sides, and my head would ache. I called the doctor and he said I had organic inflammation. I went to him for a while but did not get well so I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking two bottles I was relieved and finally my troubles left me. I married and have two little girls. I have had no return of the old troubles."—Mrs. CHAS. BOELL, 2550 S. Chadwick St., Phila., Pa.

Cool in Face of Death. One of the most extraordinary cases of saffron on the scaffold occurred some time ago, when Macdonald, who murdered a Miss Holt, paid the penalty of his crime in England. The hangman had forgotten the white cap to place over the prisoner's eyes, and Macdonald, noticing what had happened, remarked to his executioner: "Put your hand in my breast pocket and you'll find a silk handkerchief. That will do to blind my eyes, won't it?"

Check the Symptoms of Lung Trouble

One of the many reasons why Lung Trouble is so difficult to fight is because the disease is often of a very baffling nature. The patient may look well, but in reality is fast losing strength by continued night sweats, fever and cough. These symptoms should be checked as quickly as possible. Eckman's Alternative is beneficial in checking fever and night sweats and it has brought about many complete recoveries. Read this case:—

205 W. 35th St., New York. "Gentlemen: I am writing you this testimonial that others may know what your Alternative has done for me. Since I was a very young woman I was a sufferer from Bronchitis. I tried doctor after doctor, getting little or no benefit. Finally I had night sweats, weak lungs and it was finally found that I had Lung Trouble. Miss Mary Eckman, who is a friend of mine, recovered after taking your Alternative and insisted that I try it. I am now, after two years, perfectly well, strong and healthy." (Alladin).—MRS. ROSA VOELPEL.

(Above abbreviated, more on request.) Eckman's Alternative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Strumous Colds and in upbuilding the system, forming drugs, no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratories, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. Where There's A Will

Just as I got to that somebody opened the door behind me and looked in. I glanced around, and it was a man with the reddest hair I ever saw. Mine was pale by comparison. He was rather short and heavy-set, and he had a pleasant face, although not handsome, his nose being slightly bent to the left. But at first all I could see was his hair.

"Good evening," he said, edging himself in. "Are you Miss Waters?"

"Yes," I said, rising and getting a glass ready.

He took off his hat and came over to the spring where I was filling his glass.

"If that's for you, you needn't bother," he said. "If it tastes as it smells, I'm not thirsty. My name's Barnes, and I was to wait here for Mr. Van Alstyne."

"Barnes!" I repeated. "Then you're the doctor?"

He grinned, and stood turning his hat around in his hands.

"Not exactly," he said. "I graduated in medicine a good many years ago, but after a year of it I took to other things."

"Oh, yes," I said. "You're an actor now."

He looked thoughtful.

"Some people think I'm not," he answered, "but I'm on the stage."

I put a fresh log on the fire, and as it blazed up I saw him looking at me.

"Ye gods and little fishes!" he said. "Another redhead! Why, we're as alike as two carrots off the same bunch!"

In five minutes I knew how old he was, and where he was raised, and that what he wanted more than anything on earth was a little farmhouse with chickens and a cow.

Then he wanted to know what he was to do at the sanatorium and I told him as well as I could. I didn't tell him everything, but I explained why Mr. Pierce was calling himself Carter, and about the two in the shelter-house. I had to. He knew as well as I did that three days before Mr. Pierce had had nothing to his name but a folding automobile road map or whatever it was.

"Good for old Pierce!" he said when I finished. "He's a prince, Miss Waters. If you'd seen him sending those girls back to town—well, I'd do all I can to help him."

Mr. and Mrs. Van Alstyne came in just then, and Mr. Sam told him what he was expected to do. It wasn't much.

"Remember," Mr. Sam instructed him, as Doctor Barnes started out, "when you don't know what to prescribe, order a Turkish bath. The baths are to a sanatorium what the bar is to a club—they pay the bills."

Well, we got it all fixed and Doctor

"Not if they see him first!" I replied grimly, and he went out.

CHAPTER VII.

It was all well enough for me to say—as I had to to Tillie many a time—that it was ridiculous to make a fuss over a person for what, after all, was an accident of birth. Nevertheless, at five o'clock, after every one had gone, when I saw Miss Patty, muffled in furs, tripping out through the snow, with a tall thin man beside her, walking very straight and taking one step to her four, I felt as though somebody had hit me at the end of my breastbone.

They came in together, laughing and talking, and, to be honest, if I hadn't caught the back of a chair, I'd have had one foot back of the other and been making a courtesy in spite of myself.

"We're late, Minnie," Miss Patty said. "Oskar, this is one of my best friends, and you are to be very nice to her."

He had one of those single glass things in his eye and he gave me a good stare through it. Seen close he was handsomer than Mr. Pierce, but he looked older than his picture.

"Ask her if she won't be nice to me," he said in as good English as mine, and held out his hand.

"Any of Miss Patty's friends—" I began, with a lump in my throat, and gave his hand a good squeeze.

They went very soon after that. I stood and watched them until they disappeared in the snow, and I felt lonelier than ever, and sad, although certainly he was better than I had expected to find him. He was a man, and not a little cub with a body hardly big enough to carry his forefather's weaknesses. But he had a cold eye and a warm mouth, and that sort of man is generally a social success and a matrimonial failure.

I had hardly closed the door after them when it opened again and Mr. Pierce came in. He shut the door and, going over to one of the tables, put a package down on it.

"Here's the stuff you wanted for the spring, Minnie," he announced. "I suppose I can't do anything more than register a protest against it."

"You needn't bother doing that," I answered, "unless it makes you feel better. Your authority ends at that door. Inside the springhouse I'm in control."

(It's hard to believe, with things as they are, that I once really believed that. But I did. It was three full days later that I learned that I'd been mistaken.)

Well, he sat there and looked at nothing while I heated water in my brass kettle over the fire and dissolved the things against Thoburn's quick eye the next day, and he didn't say anything. He had a gift for keeping quiet, Mr. Pierce had. It got on my nerves after a while.

"Things are doing better," I remarked, stirring up my mixture.

"Yes," he said, without moving. "Miss—Miss Jennings and the—von Inwald were here just now, weren't they? I passed them on the bridge."

"Yes."

"What—how do you like him?"

"Better than I expected and not so well as I might," I said.

Mrs. Hutchins came out to the springhouse the next morning. She was dressed in a black silk with real lace collar and cuffs, and she was so puffed up with pride that she forgot to be nasty to me.

"I thought I'd better come to you, Minnie," she said. "Mr. Carter has put the—has put Mr. von Inwald in the north wing. I cannot imagine why he should have given him the coldest and most disagreeable part of the house."

I said I'd speak to Mr. Carter and try to have him moved, and she went away, but I made up my mind to talk to Mr. Pierce. The sanatorium business isn't one where you can put your own likes and dislikes against the comfort of the guests.

I was sick enough of hearing of Mr. von Inwald before the day was over. All morning in the springhouse they talked Mr. von Inwald. They pretended to play cards, but they were really playing European royalty. Every time somebody laid down a queen, he'd say, "Is the queen still living, or didn't she die a few years ago?" And when they played the knave, they'd start off about the prince again.

In the afternoon Mr. von Inwald came out to the springhouse and sat around, very affable and friendly, drinking the water. He and the bishop grew quite chummy. Miss Patty was not there, but about four o'clock Mr. Pierce came out. He did not sit down, but wandered around the room, not talking to anybody, but staring, whenever he could, at the prince. Once I caught Mr. von Inwald's eyes fixed on him, as if he might have seen him before.

Senator Biggs was the one who really caused the trouble. "What do you think of American women, Mr. von Inwald?" he asked, and everybody stopped playing cards and listened for the answer. As Mr. von Inwald represented the prince, wouldn't he be likely to voice the prince's opinion of American women?

It's my belief Mr. von Inwald was going to say something nice. He smiled as if he meant to, but just then he saw Mr. Pierce in his corner sneering behind his pipe. They looked at each other steadily, and nobody could mistake the hate in Mr. Pierce's face or his sneer. After a minute the prince looked away and shrugged his shoulders, but he didn't make his pretty speech.

"American women!" he said, turning his glass of spring water around on the table before him, "they are very lovely, of course. But they are spoiled, fearfully spoiled. They rule their parents and they expect to rule their husbands. In Europe we do things better; we are not—what is the English?—'bag-ridden'?"

There was a sort of murmur among the men, but the women all nodded as if they thought Europe was entirely right. They'd have agreed with him if he'd advocated sixteen wives sitting cross-legged on a mat, like the Turks. Mr. Pierce was still staring at the prince.

"What I don't quite understand, Mr. von Inwald," the bishop put in in his nice way, "is your custom of expecting a girl to bring her husband a certain definite sum of money and to place it, under the husband's control. Our wealthy American girls control their own money." He was thinking of Miss Patty, and everybody knew it.

The prince turned red and glared at the bishop. Then I think he remembered that he was a prince.

Mr. von Inwald got up, and his face was red. Mr. Pierce was white and sneering.

"Also," he went on, "when they marry they wish to control their own money, and not see it spent in—ways with which you are doubtless familiar."

We were all paralyzed. Nobody moved. Mr. Pierce put his pipe in his pocket and stalked out, slamming the door. Then Mr. von Inwald shrugged his shoulders and laughed.

"I see I shall have to talk to our young friend," he said and picked up his glass. "I'm afraid I've given a wrong impression. I like the American women very much; too well," he went on with a flash of his teeth, looking around the room, and brought the glass to the spring for me to fill. But I can tell a good bit about a man from the way he gives me his glass, and he was in a perfect frenzy of rage. When I reached it back to him he gripped it until his nails were white.

Tillie brought the supper basket for the shelter-house about six o'clock and sat down for a minute by the fire. She said Mr. Pierce (Carter to her) had started out with a gun about five o'clock. It was foolish, but it made me uneasy.

She got up, leaving the basket on the hearth.

Just then I heard a shot from the direction of the deer park, even Tillie noticed how pale I got.

"I don't know what's come over you, Minnie," she said. "That's only Mr. Carter shooting rabbits. I saw him go out as I started down the path."

bered that they didn't know who he was, and he smiled and started to turning the glass again.

"Pardon!" he said. "Is it not better? What do women know of money? They throw it away on trifles, dresses, jewels—American women are extravagant. It is one result of their—of their spoiling."

Mr. Pierce got up and emptied his pipe into the fire. Then he turned.

"I'm afraid you have not known the best type of American women," he said, looking hard at the prince. "Our representative women are our middle-class women. They do not contract European alliances, not having sufficient money to attract the attention of the nobility, or enough to buy titles, as they do pearls, for the purpose of adorment."

AN OLD REMEDY
Beef, Iron and Wine is one of the good old remedies that has outlived a score of patent tonics, reasonable in price, a satisfactory tonic, appetizer and mild stimulant. There is nothing better for that tired, worried, listless feeling or run-down condition of the system after illness of any kind. It tones the whole system, stimulates digestion, gives you appetite, is a good tonic for weak, pale children or old people, far more effective than malt extracts or so-called wine of cod liver oil that depend upon their stimulants alone. Beef, Iron and Wine tones and sustains, it assists nature to recuperate, it's a food to the sick and nursing mothers.

Mr. Pfennig, our Graduate Pharmacist and Chemist, prepares our Beef, Iron and Wine. It's always fresh, made from the very best extract of beef, wholesome, properly aged sherry wine and good iron. It's a good tonic, factory-manufactured. Beef, Iron and Wine. We believe and know that medicine should be compounded only by the experienced and scientifically trained.

Try a bottle of our Beef, Iron and Wine as made by Mr. Pfennig, 75c a full pint. Note its wholesome taste and invigorating effect. You will be more than satisfied. Get it at the Badger Drug Co., Milwaukee and River streets.
